

The Erich-Brost-Institute for International Journalism in Europe is located on the upper floors of the Erich-Brost-Haus and has complemented and extended the cooperation with the specific journalistic study program of Dortmund university by establishing practical learning components for a Europeanwide training. As a scientific centre for International Journalism, the Erich-Brost-Institute has expanded its field of activity with the Centre for Advanced Study. Nowadays, research in International Journalism is done in both, special network projects and in specific areas of competence in the information economy. Projects dealing with the support of young scientists and advanced education programs are in progress.

In the building

there are more than two dozen offices, project and Courserooms. In the large conference hall (max 100 places) with interproiling gallery, extendable stage, Satellite TV and large hall projector can be shown for multimedia conferences and events optional presentations with computers via the Internet or even film sequences in the VCR and DVD format.

The hall thus offers a wide variety of design options for the requirements of project groups.

For various cultural events, the courtyard can be used with outbuilding. A vestibule is suitable for receptions and smaller exhibitions.

First Floor

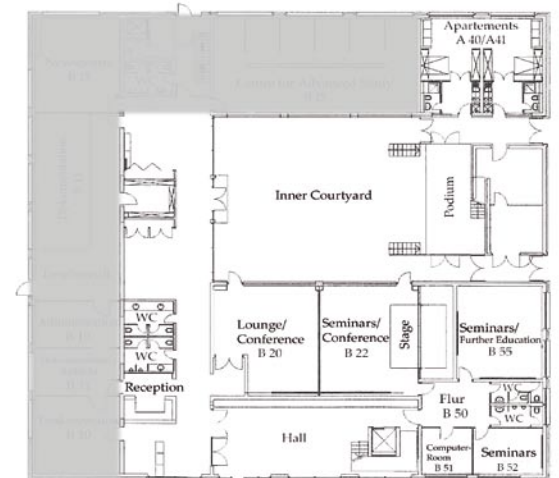

The bright coloured areas in the sketches can be hired by calling Phone: 0231/755- 6957. The grey parts are work spaces for employees of the Erich-Brost-Institute only and therefore are not available for the public.

The main design of the Erich-Brost-Haus is geared towards the demand of multinational study groups. A variety of diverse communication areas, flexible room use with mobile technical equipment facilities are provided to a great extent. Thus, international study groups working in global networks find here an adequate location for their work and cooperation. On top, the centre also offers three fully equipped apartments (32-62 m²) for guest researchers. The inner courtyard with an own outside stage can be used for diverse cultural events. A vestibule is suitable for receptions and small exhibitions.

The two seminar rooms are for 20 to max. 25 People furnished. Four other rooms for small groups from 6 to 10 people Also offer the possibility here to multimedia Group works. Presentations and presentations can, by arrangement, with a mobile projector being held. Folia presentations via overhead Projector are here, as well as in all other rooms possible. All seminar rooms are with magnet panels and Accessories equipped and have cable network Access and internet connection via W-LAN.

The grey parts are work spaces for employees of the Erich-Brost-Institute only and therefore are not available for the public.

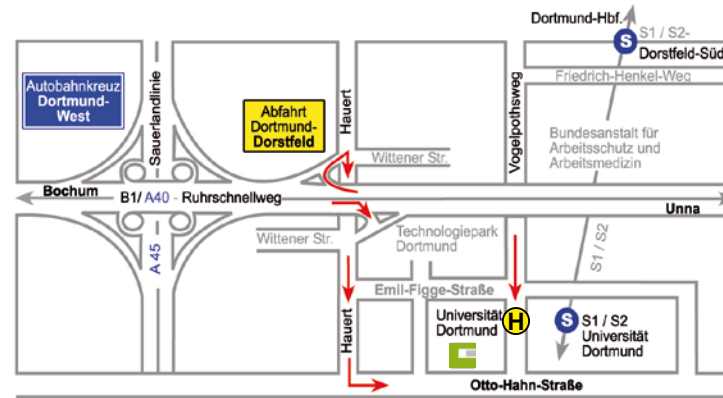

Ground Floor

The Erich-Brost-Haus

is property of the University of Dortmund since a donation in 2005.

The building is divided in five main parts which surround an inner courtyard:

- a conference area on the first floor
- teaching areas for seminars and editorial work area facilities
- an executive board area
- fully equipped rooms for research project groups
- a technically equipped area for PhD students

Kontakt

Erich-Brost-Institute

Otto-Hahn-Straße 2

44227 Dortmund

Phone: 0231-755 6971

Fax: 0231-755 6955

E-Mail: info@brost.org

Internet: www.brost.org

Technical Support &

Event Management:

Phone: 0231-755 6957

How to find us:

By car:

Via autobahn A40/B1 take the exit „Dortmund- Dorstfeld“. Then follow the signs that lead to the university.

During assigned events you can use the parking lot no. 24, access is from street „Vogelpothsweg“.

Parking lot no. 25a is reserved for authorized staff members only.

By train:

Take the S-Bahn S1 (German trolley) that leaves every 20 minutes from Dortmund central station to Düsseldorf. Exit at stop „Dortmund- Universität“.

Erich-Brost-Institute
for international Journalism